Dear Praying Friends,

July-August 2025

NEEMA YA MUNGU SWAHILI TRANSLATION

We're delighted to share exciting news from the Swahili Bible translation project: remarkable progress has been made on the New Testament! If all continues as planned, it will be fully completed and ready for printing by the end of this year. This milestone represents years of dedicated work, prayer, and partnership—truly a cause for celebration! A formal dedication ceremony is being planned for next year to honor this achievement. It will be a special time to give thanks and reflect on the impact this translation will have throughout Swahili-speaking communities in Africa. As we look ahead, please pray that we will be able to identify the most cost-effective printing solution to ensure the New Testament can be properly distributed.

PRAY FOR CONGO

For over three decades, the eastern region of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) has been burdened by relentless conflict, with roots stretching back to the 1990s. This region continues to experience instability driven by a complex mix of armed groups, regional tensions, and governmental challenges. Tragically, millions have died, and countless families have been displaced. Our thirteen churches located in the Kivu region—among the hardest-hit areas—remain steadfast in faith, even as much of the region is currently under rebel control. Amid these hardships, the Gospel continues to reach hearts and transform lives. Later this month, we'll gather our thirteen Congolese pastors along with seven pastors from Burundi for a Bible training session. We ask you to pray for this college session. We'll also be working on our ministry boat, which will serve to get the gospel to isolated villages along Lake Tanganyika—many of which are only accessible by water. Despite the dangers and challenges, God's Word is advancing in the Kivu region. We are deeply grateful for your prayers, support, and partnership in this mission.
